THE MIGHT OF NATIONS

World Politics in Our Time Third Edition

JOHN G. STOESSINGER, City University of New York
Random House, 1969; 448 pages; $7.95

This new edition of a text which won the Bancroft Prize focuses on four themes: the East-West conflict; the struggle between nationalism and colonialism; the tension between the quest for power and the quest for order; and the divergence between the way nations perceive world affairs and the actualities of international relations. Within this framework, the author discusses the major problems of international politics from diplomatic, military, and economic viewpoints. The text has been updated to take into account the Vietnam and Israeli-Arab conflicts, the changes in NATO, the recent partial moves beyond the Cold War concept in East-West relations, and the increasing power of anti-colonial forces in Africa.

POLITICS AMONG NATIONS

The Struggle for Power and Peace Fourth Edition

HANS J. MORGENTHAU, University of Chicago
Knopf, 1967; 672 pages; $8.95

This classic textbook has become the standard against which all others in the field are measured. The fourth edition brings the organization and approach of the earlier editions to bear on the major events and issues of today: the United Nations, imperialism, prestige, nuclear war, alliances, and arms control.
